Hi!
Well..if I am posting here..you have got to know I have done everything possible..and came up short.

Here's the Db2 error when I try and create the sample database:

SQL1084C Shared memory segments cannot be allocated. SQLSTATE=57019

Yes..I have looked at the logs..done tons of google searches..and I am now offically a expert on kernel settings.

Still..nothing. I don't mind continuing to learn with this..but..I've got to ask:

Is there something with the way openvz itself allocates memory fundamentally that would prevent this from working?

Thanks

Bryon
