Hello, All!

We are completely bite to ground with the current Eric's patchset today by Dave Miller. flowi tagging considered wrong. The same opinion has been received from Alexey Kuznetsov :(

So, it seems that we can't push this approach.

Daniel, Benjamin, should I merge your code to our git after this news or we should stop a bit and think? We have talked on OLS that if Dave stop us with current approach we could try global context as in OpenVz.

I think I'll code this a bit and see a reaction, but we need to have some agreement here :)

Regards,
Den
