Subject: Activation mail from forum.
Posted by GFell on Mon, 20 Aug 2007 09:20:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Good day!

Recently I've registered on the forum and didn't received an activation email from your forum.

Mail server log revision told me that your mail comes from apache@forum.virtuozzo.org address and can't be verified by SAF (Sender Address Verification), so... I will never receive that mail

You know, a lot of mail servers use such antispam method as SAF, so your users have or will have the same troubles as me.

Why can't you send mail from some existent address or masquearde apache to it?

With respect, Br.

Subject: Re: Activation mail from forum.
Posted by kir on Tue, 21 Aug 2007 04:55:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Thanks for reporting, this has been fixed by now, mails are now going from forum at openvz.org. SPF record will be modified to include forum.openvz.org host soon.