I just install the OpenVZ module for webmin...

with this module, i make a operational VPS, it's working well. I can, ping external and all of services (apache, sshd, postfix...)

But when i reboot the node server, i have allready the error in my post, and the vps loss is eth device and won't work...

note: the webmin module do exactly the same command has i do.... i don't understand why webmin Openvz create works and not my manual command....

i don't understand why when node reboot, he lost my vps device !
