Hi!

If I remember good there was more time till the D state process exited (I made a phone call meantime) but I'm not 100% sure.

If it happens next time I will watch the stopper and gathering informations to the BugZilla but this time was an emergency situation. I hope it will not happen again.

I think this can be correlated with the kernel dump I sent to you in the other thread ( Bug 513 ) so we can close this thread.

Thanks,

Arpad
