

---

Subject: Re: Getting ACPI Sleep Support working
Posted by DigiMan on Fri, 13 Apr 2007 20:51:44 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

The problem is that when I try to hibernate using the following command (which works fine with my normal kernel):

```
klaptop_acpi_helper --hibernate
```

it tells me:

"Your kernel does not appear to have ACPI sleep support.
hibernate: Aborting."

Even trying to force it fails. I also tried to use uswsusp instead and then rebuilt a new initrd but it still doesn't work.

---