1) There is really nothing in the logs... Neither /var/log/messages nor any other (dmesg...). GCC simply dies with SegFault.

2) The environment is a bunch of makefiles that run `"/configure .. . && make && make install"`

3) The same build process runs on any other kernel I know...

(Fedora Core 5/6, SuSE 9.3/10.0/10.2, Debian 3.1)

Now, it is running on the real Centos kernel... I'm still waiting... No errors yet...

Hardware was completely tested by memtest & cpuburn.
