Hm, It seems this patch is already applied to my source ?!

hernad@desk-h8:~/openvz/linux-2.6.18-openvz-033-b$ patch -p1 < 1.patch
```

patching file fs/proc/generic.c
```

```
Reversed (or previously applied) patch detected! Assume -R? [n]
```

I am using kernel master branch from git, last updated this morning:

```
hernad@desk-h8:~/openvz/git/linux-2.6.18-openvz$ git show-branch
```

```
[master] syslog: fix LTP failure in case of wrong args
```
