
Subject: Re: Is it possible to build OpenVZ as LKM ?
Posted by John Kelly on Fri, 06 Jul 2007 17:20:19 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Extensive kernel changes are required to make virtualization possible. I doubt you could modularize them, unless the base kernel was redesigned to be compatible with a plug-in virtualization architecture. But that would be even more work than the openvz patchset.

IOW, not likely.
