

---

Subject: Re: possible to build vzquota file after VE has started?

Posted by vaverin on Tue, 24 Jul 2007 03:43:43 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Rick,

It looks like I do not understand your question correctly:

Usually quota is saved into quota-file on VE stop and restored on next VE start. They are fast operations and as far as I understand your optimization is not required here.

Quota is recalculated on the first VE boot and in some other rare cases when quota-file has not been saved correctly on VE stop.

But IMHO it is really rare cases and therefore your optimization is not make big sense here too.

Am I miss something? Could you please explain your Idea to me more detailed?

Thank you,

Vasily Averin

---