
Subject: Re: [PATCH 15/15] Hooks over the code to show correct values to user
Posted by Oleg Nesterov on Sun, 29 Jul 2007 14:29:59 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

On 07/26, Pavel Emelyanov wrote:

```
>
> int
> kill_proc(pid_t pid, int sig, int priv)
> {
> - return kill_proc_info(sig, __si_special(priv), pid);
> + int ret;
> +
> + rcu_read_lock();
> + ret = kill_pid_info(sig, __si_special(priv), find_pid(pid));
> + rcu_read_unlock();
> + return ret;
> }
```

I think this is wrong. `kill_proc()` should behave the same as `kill_proc_info()`, so this change is not needed. With this patch they use different namespaces to find the task, this is not consistent.

(sadly, this patch is huge, very difficult to review).

Oleg.
