I don't have vzdev installed in VE#0 though it is installed in say VE#100. Even then, I had this famous PTY problem. Early on in this thread someone recommended doing the following to each VE:

/etc/rc.d/rc.sysinit

from /sbin/start_udev

to [-f /sys/class/tty/console/uevent] && /sbin/start_udev

This works for me 100% of the time but I don't understand why udev doesn't fully run in the VEs without this hack.
