the HN is a Sun Fire V20z with twin dual-core AMD with CentOS 4.5

the root crontab file was empty until i set 755 on the vz cron

i also have a Dell 1850 twin Xeon with CentOS 4.5 and that too is running crontab only on root 755

webmin: is a good idea, i havent used it for years but it was a tool for me when i was learning, before i discovered nx. i dont want to give nx because they will sit all day eating resouces playing mahjong (i know i do, i love the gnome and kde games)
