Hi,
is it possible to give my ve's ipaddresses with venet, so that they can be used as static machines?
For example as Webserver, as Mailserver, as ...? If the answer is yes, then it will do it for my purpose.

I also tried it with venet. I achieved connections between host and guest, but no connection between guest and other clients in my lan and none to internet. Because of this, I tried veth...

If venet is enough, I will give it a try tomorrow at work!
