Thanks Finist.

I am new to Linux world, I work as developer on Windows platform for a few years.

I got a Linux Virtual Server(Not with Godaddy.com) account and play around with Drupal. Then I looked at OpenVZ and realized , it's much better to go with Dedicated Server (or Colocation) but I was not sure, I could handle all configuration remotly with SSh. I think I am going with OpenVZ and have 3 Virtual servers, one for DB,Web and Mail.

I appreciate for your quick respond.
