
Subject: Re: [PATCH 2.6.25] [IPV4] Reduce whitespaces in fib_rules.h.

Posted by den on Thu, 13 Dec 2007 15:00:23 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

David Miller wrote:

> From: "Denis V. Lunev" <den@openvz.org>

> Date: Thu, 13 Dec 2007 17:18:42 +0300

>

>> There are too many spaces between type and function name in the declaration >> of fib rules manipulation routines. Eat them and save a couple of lines.

>>

>> Signed-off-by: Denis V. Lunev <den@openvz.org>

>

> This is just noise and serves nothing other than to invite potential > patch conflicts which makes development harder.

>

> If you happened to be changing these for other reasons, I'd say OK, > but not like this.

>

I will add parameter to these calls. The line will be too long after that. I'd like to separate sense changes from, you perfectly correct, useless changes :(

Could you still apply it, or I will need to send fully functional set to you including this?
