Subject: ACLs on VPS!

Hi, I'm a customer of a couple of LxAdmin VPSs with CentOS.

After searching some info about making an anonymous FTP server, I decided to modify some parameters on pure-ftpd default installation. Works fine, except that I want to use 2 different users accessing to a same folder, the standard user and the anonymous user.

After seeing that, I decided to use ACLs to avoid the ftpd error "Sorry, we were unable to read [.]", but seems that ACLs maybe are not compatible with VPSs, or maybe I'm just lost ....

Any idea?

Thanks!
