Hi!

I've just set up a new server running openvz. A strange behaviour is that my upload limit is at 400Mb/s.

I've checked that it does not come from the saturation of hard drives. So, i wonder if there is any limitation of bandwidth, by default, in openvz.

I have other things to explore, and i don't think that this limit is due to openvz, but if someone can confirm it...

thanks!
