Subject: Re: Can't install yum on container.
Posted by JimL on Mon, 04 Aug 2008 23:00:31 GMT

dowdle wrote on Mon, 04 August 2008 18:25That was quite painful... because your OS Template was for CentOS 4.4 and you had to find 4.4 packages. 4.6 is the current CentOS release and I think all OS Templates should be as current as possible. 4.7 comes out any-day now.

My dated contrib OS Templates are current as of the dates in the names.

Yes, unfortunately I'm running a test platform and it has to run the same OS as the production environment. Updating the production environment is something we don't like to do very often.

Thanks again,
Jim.