Hi,

Quote:
so you think we can have 200 VEs running in the same server without CPULIMITS ? We want to have 4 diferents plans of VPS with diferent resources, in our case do you think its possible without CPULIMITS ? and what about the number of CPUS for each VE?

If you're going to set up a particular configuration nobody can prevent you to realize your plans. It's not recommended using such little values as it was shown in a first post.

CPULIMIT="2"

The problems you might bump into described in my previous message. Just keep them in mind. To avoid the potential problems it has been recommended you to switch off CPULIMITS at all but you might just increase them using cut-and-try method. The same may be said about CPUS variable except for the additional note - CPULIMIT=100 is worse than CPUS=1 (without CPULIMIT at all)
It's also recommended not to use CPUUNITS inside VE which can differ more that in times.
