Wordpress and Vbulletin are running on it. It is only one site and we have submitted several tickets but the support team is not very helpful. They always slightly increase the limits restart the container and boom the site is up again but it goes down 3 days later.

Just wanted to know if anyone has any idea where the weakspot is. The biggest problem is the privvmpages they are already at 490 failcnt after 2 days and just yesterday I got an error from vbulletin:

"Got error 12 from storage engine"

Thanks for the help...
