Looking at my openvz kernel source on the desktop. I do not have that patch applied. But at least in this case the patch appears that would be easily applied.

  http://git.kernel.org/?p=linux/kernel/git/torvalds/linux-2.6
.git;a=commitdiff;h=ad3960243e55320d74195fb85c975e0a8cc4466c

I understand though, this will not be the only security bug. If I have time I will file a bug report in my distro on this. Since they have already have patched openvz to 2.6.27.37.
