Hi and thanks very much for the reply! I was beginning to think no one was going to help around here on either thread I've started asking for help, lol

I'm a bit confused on exactly how to set it all up the way you described, but your reply was very informative and definitely has pointed me in the right direction, so as soon as I have some time to spend on this, I'll do some testing and will report back on how it goes.

Thanks again!
