I'd also like to hear others who perhaps use SL / OpenVZ combo, so if anyone else is reading... do chip in.

I switched earlier this year and haven't looked back . . . CentOS seems to rely largely on one person who seems to hold everything up.

I suppose its unfair to grind an axe since it's free, the developer(s) put a lot of personal time into it obviously -- but it is what it is and I moved on.
