I forgot to mention we're using kernel 2.6.18-274.7.1.el5.028stab095.1 - The same as KuJoe.

I can also say that we've experienced many "crashes" during live migrations. We're fairly certain the crashes occurred during the migration of a container with TUN enabled and most likely in use. We've been so far unable to retrieve a kernel panic because we do not have physical access to the systems.
