I have the same problem. Running CentOS 64 on the main node. Did you ever get vzyum to install correctly? I have a CentOS 32 VPS running but it doesn't have yum. It is a precreated template since I can't use metadata, not havng vzyum.

I need to get yum installed on the VPS know of only one possible way to do that. That is; to use vzyum and install it on the VPS. OpenVZ is really starting to bite.
