it is not very clear when you see this.

1. when system is with kernel 042stab085.20 and you reboot for update. or is it after reboot.
2. or is it already 042stab088.4 and you reboot for some reason?

if 1. is it reproducible? is it reproducible with 042stab088.4 ?

if 2. is it reproducible? if yes- probably best way is to fill bug report. otherwise you can fill bug report and than hope openvz developers will know where problem is.
