Hello,

I have a hardnode with openvz 2.6.32-042stab055.12 installed.
I have an ext4 partition it size is 1,8Tb.

I want to put this partition in a VE.

When I start the hardnode the partition is not mounted in the VE.
I have to mount and unmount the partition in the hardnode before mount it into the VE.
Then when I restart the VE the partition is always mounted inside

After that I have no problem with my partition.

I don't understand why my partition is not mounted inside the VE at boot time ?
