I am moving from a web host (scalahosting.com) due to some weird problems with system administration eg. lost data. I had a reseller account (cpanel/whm) although I only set up my own web sites there. At home I use debian and webmin for testing. I havent tried virtualmin yet. Does openvz provide similar services to whm or is it just bare linux and i have to add webmin and virtualmin for multiple websites? Thanks.
