Your upgrade path would be to create a new OpenVZ 7 host and migrate any existing containers to it.

Rather than doing it blindly, you are strongly recommended to check out the documentation for 7 here:

<https://docs.openvz.org/>

In particular, read the Readme to see what's new and known issues and restrictions. Some current significant restrictions include:

- Private networks are not supported.
- Basic firewall is not supported.

For some, those will be a deal breaker until the limitations are overcome.
