We've been waiting for at least a year or two now for commercial release of standalone readykernel licenses and are excited to see it appears to be available now at buyvirtuozzo.com. Since the readykernel website doesn't link to that domain at all, and since it's not the virtuozzo.com domain, and it doesn't use an EVSSL (it's just Let's Encrypt), we just wanted to check to be sure this is a legit Virtuozzo run store. Is it? Can we now buy ReadyKernel licenses for OpenVZ 7?
