ok got X-server up and running on my laptop added the command xhost + to allow all incoming, using the same program start an ssh connection with ssh -X root@address

Don't have xterm installed on the template i used so cant run that to test. will give it a download and see.

still get the same results though, echo $DISPLAY returns nothing, and running the Jboss installer jar return the same original error.

This is all running on our local lan, and i can log into the VE from my laptop it is just this install that isnt working.

Thanks a lot for your help btw.
