Yeah, it runs scripts.

Check out `/etc/sysconfig/vz-scripts/dists/scripts`

Depending on the distro of your VE, it runs scripts `ip_add.sh` `ip_del.sh` and such. You can also look in the `/etc/sysconfig/vz-scripts/dists` directory for a list of distros and what scripts they use from the scripts directory.

By default i think they use some redhat / centos / fedora variant and it manages to work since I typically use CentOS for anything.
