I considered writing on their mailing list but the fact that happened on all the vps's got me wondering if this is not an openvz bug.

Apache is up to date version 2.2.2 (i know the latest is 2.2.3)

Mod_security is version 1.9.4 today they released version 2 and i'll wait for the rpm's to show up in fedora-extras.

I can't test the setup on my HN because i use centos on it
