
Subject: Re: ovz on Slackware

Posted by Vasily Tarasov on Tue, 05 Dec 2006 14:54:10 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hello,

can you, please, specify kernel version you're using and output of `cat /proc/sys/kernel/cap-bound` command.

Thanks,
Vasily.

Stuart MacIntosh wrote:

```
> Hello everyone
> I'm trying to setup OpenVZ on a Slackware 10.2 HN
> So far compiled and modified scripts to use the BSD init scripts (no > /etc/sysconfig) but I get this error:
>
> # vzctl start 101
> Starting VE ...
> VE is mounted
> Unable to set capability: Operation not permitted
> Unable to set capability
> VE start failed
> VE is unmounted
> #
>
> Can anyone provide me with some insight into possible causes of this > error?
> What is "vps.mount" and is it not included in the source code tarballs > for a reason?
>
> Thanks
> -Stuart
>
> -----
>
```
