Separate logfile and console loglevel

The separation is implemented as follows

1: split --verbose from LOG_LEVEL

verbose and LOG_LEVEL are both 0 as default

--verbose will not affect LOG_LEVEL and vice versa

2: Make --verbose accept optional value. Add VERBOSE to vz.conf

VERBOSE=0 as default

--verbose[=value]

Increase or set the logging level.

No arguments will increase the current value by one.

3: Make verbose=0 more quiet

Raise default LOG_LEVEL to 2 and VERBOSE to 1

Raise some logger(0, ...)

No logger() above 3

Defaults will print/log mostly the same...
