
Subject: Re: /etc/hosts

Posted by dev on Mon, 11 Dec 2006 13:34:49 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Farkas Levente wrote:

> hi,

> why put openvz into each VE's /etc/hosts the hostname itself too? ie:

> 127.0.0.1 host.example.com host localhost localhost.localdomain

> and why do this on all reboot, why not accept

> 127.0.0.1 localhost localhost.localdomain

> it has some reasons?

> thanks.

> yours.

>

If HOSTNAME set in VE config it is updated on every VE start.

hostname is bound to 127.0.0.1 for simplicity of updates on ip change i.e
it doesn't depend on ip in such a scheme.

Kirill
