I know this is a rather general question but I'm wondering what kinds of things I might run into that's not going to work that not obvious. Like I know that grub-install isn't going to work because there's no boot directory. I suppose I want to be forewarned as to what issues I'm likely to run into.

If I put a person in a VPS who was used to dedicated, what kinds of things might they run into that is likely to not work? Also, if someone were to use a VPS what kinds of things can they do to screw up the system?

What do I need to watch out for or be aware of?
