Subject: lustre inside VMs

Dear all,

There is a need to deploy small testbed consisting of few machines with lustre fs inside (for development purpose i.e. a performance is not a critical issue).
I wonder if it is possible to do that on OpenVZ-based VMs or hypervisors implementing full virtualization approach is the only way to go since there is a lustre-related kernel module what needs to be loaded?

Best regards,
Nikolay.
