Subject: Setting system URL
Posted by ewfsprince on Fri, 11 May 2012 06:24:22 GMT

Hi guys,

I made a noob mistake setting up my OpenVZ I set the OpenVZ portal to http//<myip> and won't accept a login because it forces HTTP <-- a typo thats costing me a lot of time.

I can't seem to find where I can change the URL and add the : in the http <-- url trail
Sorry not being straight up, I can't post links on here because I don't have 10 posts... but its the : in the http before the // that is missing. If ya get what I mean.

Any help would be great.

FYI I am new to OpenVZ.

Subject: Re: Setting system URL
Posted by Ales on Sat, 12 May 2012 10:54:04 GMT

I think you're in the wrong place. OpenVZ does not have a web front end of any kind.

You probably use some kind of a third party software, perhaps a control panel with "openvz" in its name? In this case you should contact the authors directly.

And you might mention to them that their usage of the openvz name is confusing.