Trying to run a 'yum update' I got some strange yum error. I narrowed it down to being caused by vzctl. It installed fine on another very similar server so it seems something has gone belly up on this server, not sure what though.

During the failure it suggests running "yum --enablerepo=openvz-utils clean metadata" so I start by doing that:

yum --enablerepo=openvz-utils clean metadata

```

```

```

After this it just keeps looping through mirrors.

What does this error mean? This server runs Centos 6-64 so it should be the correct rpm.

I have fixed it. Sorry for the trouble, something is wrong with my upload scripts, will find it out when back from vacation.
