Hi,

wiki.openvz.org loads static.openvz.org, which requires a password,
and prompts my browser for a login/pwd.

Have you changed something?

Best,

"In July 2005, after several failed attempts to legalise software
patents in Europe, the patent establishment changed its strategy.
Instead of explicitly seeking to sanction the patentability of software, they are now seeking to create a central European patent court, which would establish and enforce patentability rules in their favor, without any possibility of correction by competing courts or democratically elected legislators."

Yes I did, but it shouldn't work this way.

What IP static.openvz.org resolves to on your computer?

I see the same thing when I go there - login required

jjs@phxgw7:~$ host static.openvz.org
static.openvz.org has address 64.131.90.169

It's a DNS fsckup (secondary NSs are not in sync with the primary), should be fixed in a few hours.

Meanwhile I re-configured the old web server so static.openvz.org is serving from it as well, which should work around the problem.
