Hi

mirror.lon.cenexo.com/openvz has not been syncing/updating for over a month now. A few of my friends have been in illusion that there are no updates from OpenVZ yet because their servers hosted in London resolve to that mirror for updates. They did update the kernel manually to 042stab094.7 after I told them they are not getting updates by doing "yum update" because that particular mirror has not been updating.

Please remove this & other mirrors(if there are any) who have not been updating for a considerable amount of time.
