Hello!

Just wanted to say that this "tool" (no offense) just works great!

So, many, many thanks to all people who provide this "piece of art" (I mean it) for free.

Some minor issues but nothing serious: most of the time, problems were "PEBCAK".

I have been using OpenVZ for 10 years now (Proxmox 2 & 3 at the beginning then OpenVZ (legacy) and now, OpenVZ 7).

Upgrading to a new major version is always stressful but, at the end, it just works and solves many needs.

However, I am too small (not a big company) to upgrade to Virtuozzo: prices are way too high.

Only a hundred of CT running (no VM but it may change in the future) because "light" virtualization is way more effective.

So, at the end, again, I would like to thank all people providing this "tool" (no offense) for free (did I already mention it?).

But, just a question: why this forum is not "upgraded" and open to all again?

Have a great night!
