
Subject: OpenVZ vs. Virtuozzo...

Posted by Forrest Aldrich on Sat, 30 Dec 2006 22:35:24 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I didn't see this in the FAQ (surprisingly)...

What is the difference and/or relationship of OpenVZ and Virtuozzo?

_F

Subject: Re: OpenVZ vs. Virtuozzo...

Posted by Cranky on Sun, 31 Dec 2006 00:05:19 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi,

It's similar to the relationship between Fedora and RedHat. OVZ being the testbed for new technologies for more advanced users, and VZ being the commercial, stable product with all the frills including full support and additional tools.

See <http://openvz.org/support>

Forrest Aldrich wrote:

> I didn't see this in the FAQ (surprisingly)...

>

> What is the difference and/or relationship of OpenVZ and Virtuozzo?

>

>

> _F

>

--

Regards,

Andrew Cranson
Transnexus Hosting
www.transnexus.com

ICQ: 161813538
MSN: andrew@transnexus.com
AIM: cransona

>>> Virtuozzo Virtual Private Servers now available from $24.95/mo! US or UK based. Ask me for details. <<<
