
Subject: Running TOP
Posted by artur on Sun, 31 Dec 2006 08:41:48 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi all,

when running top in one of the VE's it seems that i can view all processes on the Host Machine. Is this normal? It also shows the exact ram and swap on the machine.

Subject: Re: Running TOP
Posted by kir on Sun, 31 Dec 2006 09:33:04 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Quote:when running top in one of the VE's it seems that i can view all processes on the Host Machine. Is this normal?

No, that shouldn't happen. Make sure you are really inside a VE.

Quote:It also shows the exact ram and swap on the machine.

It is normal, although you can change it using `vzctl set --meminfo`. See `man vzctl` for more details.

Subject: Re: Running TOP
Posted by artur on Sun, 31 Dec 2006 18:43:24 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Sounds like my fault... thanks for setting me straight
