I'm trying to set a fixed ARP cache entry inside a VM, but I always get an error.

vn101:/# arp -s 10.0.0.101 00:11:22:33:44:55
SIOCSARP: Operation not permitted

In case you are using venet networking for a VE (venet is default), host system acts as a router, and VE has a macless venet device -- so there is no arp and you can not add arp entries.

I'm not sure what you try to achieve, but you can either add arp entry on the host system, or try using veth (see http://wiki.openvz.org/Veth), which is brigded (as opposed to routed) networking for a VE with a mac address.

Last way is to use real ethernet device (vzctl set --netdev_add)

I think this should be the relevant part of my /etc/vz/conf/101.conf:

NETIF="ifname=eth0,mac=00:00:00:00:02:01,host_ifname=veth101.0,host_mac=00:00:00
:00:01:01;ifname=eth1,mac=00:00:00:00:04:01,host_ifname=veth101.1,host_mac=00:00
:00:00:03:01"

I would like to achive that the VM does not have to ask for the MAC address of it's communication partner by an ARP packet (there is a fixed number of MACs/IPs).

Hello,

Thank you for the report, I attach the path that fixes your problem. It probably will be included in next OVZ kernel release.

Thanks,
Vasily.
