Hi,

Details are still fuzzy, but to give a reasonable amount of heads-up, I'd like to announce a containers mini-summit to be held at or near LCE (http://www.linuxconf.eu/2007/). Contingent on the kernel-summit agenda, we're hoping to hold it on either sep 3 or 4. A final decision on the date will be made soon.

Since all "containers" work will be discussed (please see the roadmap I've been sending around), we will probably have a few half-hour sessions. Maybe one for virtual server, one for task containers/resource management, and one for checkpoint/restart. An agenda - probably tightly coupled to the roadmap - will be sent out in time.

We would really like to see as many people as possible attend - in person if possible, but if need be over the phone (see below). Eric, Herbert, Paul, Pavel, Kirill - well I don't want to list names, I already do that in the roadmap :)

== Phone line ==

For those who cannot attend in person, we are hoping to provide a conference phone line.

thanks,
-serge
