Subject: Quota Refreshing

Hi, sorry if this has been addressed before, however i have been unable to locate any information.

Is it possable to refresh quotas of a VPS instantly? What i mean is, i have installed a control panel onto a VPS to offer hosting accounts to others.

When i log onto one of these accounts and upload/download files, the quota information on the control panel does not get updated. It just stays at Disk 0Mb Transfer 0Mb

I got wound up last night with this, so went to bed. Woke up this morning to find out the quota information has now updated.

Could someone shead any light on how this works. And how to change the refresh from what im guessing is 24 hours, to maybe every hour, or 15 mins to update it correctly.
