Hi,

Can you please explain what does it mean share?
If you've created an OS template just put it in /vz/template/cache directory. Since then you can create a VPS based on your template.

Hi,

Many thanks for your help.
Can you please provide us with external links from which we can download your templates.

Hello
Below are the links to the templates. This is the standard way of sending the templates? I will be quoted in any way?

 http://pccepa3.if.usp.br/openvz/fedora-core-4-x86_64-minimal .tar.gz
 http://pccepa3.if.usp.br/openvz/scl405-x86_64-minimal.tar.gz

A fedora core 4 x86_64 template and a scientific linux 4.5 x86_64 minimal.
Tanks for the atention.

You can email kir (A) openvz.org with your OS Template links and some info about them... and maybe he'll have a look. He is the person who updates the OS Templates page.
